Grants Authority to Sell Trolley Lines

An order was granted Tuesday in the superior court in session in this city by Justice Hiram, giving Receiver Robert W. Perkins of the Shore Line Electric Railway company authority to abandon a large part of the Shore Line Electric Railway company's lines. The order empowered the receiver to dispose of what are known as Line "A" and "B" and Line "C" with the exception of that part running from New London to Flanders Corner in East Lyme and Line "D". Lines "A" and "B" are located in the city of New Haven, East Haven, North Branford, Guilford, Madison, Clinton, Westbrook, Old Saybrook, Essex, Saybrook and Cheshire.

Lines "C" and "D" are located in the towns of old Saybrook, Old Lyme, East Lyme, Waterford and New London.

Authority was also given Perkins to dismantle and sell at public or private sale, but subject to confirmation of the superior court and its further orders thereon, the real estate and personal property owned by the company, with the exception of the real estate and personal property connected with the operation of the system running from New London to Flanders Corner.

COMPENSATION CLAIM HAS BEEN DISMISSED

The claim of Charles F. Barnes of Mystic against Frederic A. Barnes of Mystic has been dismissed by Compensation Commissioner James J. Donohue in a finding announced Tuesday.

The respondent employer is a farmer and also deals in timber and has in his employ two sons and a nephew. The claimant, Charles F. Barnes, is a teamster. The claimant was injured by the respondent employer's team of horses in the respondent's barn and entered his home. Claimant lived at the residence of the respondent, who is a teamster. Upon the claimant's return to the respondent's home, the claimant was asked by his mother to get a jar of preserves for supper, which he did and in an attempt to open the jar, the claimant received a cut in the hand caused by the breaking of the jar.

Claimant was disabled because of the injury for a period of eight weeks. The respondent employer had taken out a workmen's compensation policy with the Employers' Liability Assurance Corp., Ltd.

Compensation was claimed because of the injury but no settlement had been reached, the respondents claiming that the injury did not arise out of and in the course of the claimant's employment and that he was not an employee according to section 5383 (c).

In the present case the claimant was living in the house with his father and mother, and was a member of the employer's family and as such does not come within the scope of the workmen's compensation act.

GROTON RESIDENTS ARE FIGHTING FARE INCREASE

Groton residents, without waiting for town officials to act, have already begun to take revenge for the action of the ferry commission in voting to raise ferry rate. A large part of the traffic which formerly would go to New London by the ferry, is being diverted to the bridge, through the offices of a semi-organized picketing squad, which gathers in loose formation in the vicinity of the ferry slip during the day and directs vehicles in a northern direction recommending highly the highway bridge.

The incident will undoubtedly precipitate hostilities in which a strong fight will be made by the borough. Walter R. Denison said Tuesday that a considerable group of persons were planning to make test cases and would probably be three cents after July 1. Should this be refused, the fight would be carried to the courts.

HONORS FOR WEEK DIVIDED IN STORRS EGG CONTEST

In the thirty-second week of the laying contest at Storrs the 100 hens produced 4334 eggs or a yield of over 60 per cent. This is 46 eggs more than for the preceding week, but is 52 eggs less than the five year average. The honors for the week were divided among the White and Columbian Rocks, White Wyandottes and Black and White Leghorns.

A pen of White Rocks owned by Chislaw Farms from Canton, Mass., finished in first place with 45 eggs. T. J. Hackettstown, N. J., were in second place with 38 eggs. A pen of Leghorns owned by Francis F. Lincoln of Mt. Carmel, Conn., were third with a yield of 36 eggs. A pen of Black Leghorns owned by F. A. Brinze from Oswayo, Pa., came in fourth with 35 eggs and Harry D. Emmen's pen of White Wyandottes from Plymouth, Conn., were in fifth with 34 eggs.

During the first thirty-two weeks of the contest the first honors for the various weeks have been distributed as follows:

Barred Rocks 13 weeks
White Leghorns 6 weeks
Rhode Island Reds 6 weeks
White Rocks 3 weeks
White Wyandottes 2 weeks
Black Leghorns 1 week

The season for fowling and fowling is a hard, cold one for the least injurious to the hens, but nevertheless they make them uncomfortable and less productive. In the contest here at Storrs the early treatment that was started about six years ago is being used and has been found very efficient. An ointment or salve is made by mixing equal parts of 50 per cent mercurial ointment and vasoline. This should be mixed thoroughly by stirring. An amount of this ointment equal to the size of a pea is applied below the vent, smearing the skin over an area equal to the size of a quarter. It should be remembered that mercurial ointment is poisonous and care should be taken that none be left on the hens can reach it. Two or three applications of this ointment a year is sufficient to keep the hens entirely free from lice.

The three best pens in each of the principal varieties are as follows:

Plymouth Rocks.
Jules F. Francis (Barred) West-
